

BLOGS FOR CREATIVE THINKING

Blogs, one of the most popular technological tools, have become a great way for students to develop their creative thinking and writing skills. In detail, students use blogs to post, share and comment upon all types of information and materials. They can write on topics that intrigue them and express their ideas without having to worry about being graded or making grammatical errors. Additionally, through volunteering to organize and manage a class blog, students can use it as a common source of expression for the entire class. There is no doubt that blogging makes students feel responsible for their own learning, and at the same time, they are encouraged to incorporate creativity into their learning process. Blogs have therefore created a new and unique way for students to learn.

in detail

我在改作文的时候发现同学们都喜欢用to be more specific，说实话老美在两千年之后就不怎么用了。

intrigue v.

引起……的好奇心，注意使用方法哦。

being graded or making grammatical errors

在美国很多professor在指导学生写作的时候，不仅会看他们的内容，也非常在意很多语法问题，这方面的要求比我们想象的更严格，所以在原文中提到了写博客的时候可以写任何自己想表达的东西而且不用担心被指责。 incorporate v.

纳入，吸收进

